

236 COASTAL

The new 236 Coastal has been engineered to provide the ideal combination of big boat fishing features with economy and ease of handling.

Wellcraft designers chose the most versatile and useful layout for a mid-size fish boat: an enormous, uncluttered cockpit and a cuddy cabin with a bow walkaround.

The self-bailing, non-skid cockpit has a baitwell, generous gunwale rod racks and molded-in fish boxes, all of mark her as a serious fishing machine.

You'll have plenty of room to mount electronics at the extra-wide helm station, and she carries a hefty 100 gallons of fuel with an option up to 150 gallons.

The 236's large cuddy cabin will allow you to hang in there comfortably as long as the action is hot. It features a dinette that converts to a double berth, a V-berth, and a galley with sink (available with a pressure water system). There are also more rod racks and plenty of storage space. An optional head may even be added.

Now it's easy to put together the ideal combination for fishing: you and the new 236 Coastal.
